TALK OF CABINETS

Balfour's Plans in the Dark as Yet.

CHAMBERLAIN'S FRIENDS STRONG

Colonial Secretary Would Have Made a Better Leader But He Favored the Premier.

LONDON, July 19.—Cabinet making is the absorbing subject of discussion here. During the week the public was regaled with more or less shrewd prophecies but no intimations were given out by the inner circle of the intentions of the premier, A. J. Balfour, regarding the successors of the ministers who have already resigned or as to how far the changes in the ministry may be expected to extend. It is undeniable that a very large section of the Conservatives and Liberal-Unionists are strongly dissatisfied with the ministry as at present constituted, and it is increasingly apparent that in spite of all parliamentary eulogies of Mr. Balfour many Unionists believe that a government of greater strength and capacity could have been established with Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, as leader. The opinion is freely expressed on all sides by Unionists as well as the Liberals that interests of the empire nowadays are so vast and complex that they are sorely in need of the oversight of a man of broader and more powerful powers, who should be dissociated from the atmosphere of constant debate over the details of such measures for instance as the education bill, or the question of releasing Patrick A. McHugh, the member of Parliament from North Leirrim, from the penalty of contempt of a petty Irish court.

The appointment of Mr. Chamberlain to the premiership would have been received with cold disfavor by the opposition and would have been a red rag to the Anglo-phobes, but nevertheless there is a multitude of government supporters who would be glad to have him as chief, and the Associated Press is informed from sources of undoubted authenticity that Mr. Chamberlain's claim to the premiership would have been recognized as being better than Mr. Balfour's had he not whenever occasion presented itself urged Mr. Balfour's succession against his own.

One important and strong point of the late administration which has not yet become generally known and appreciated and which it is feared Mr. Balfour will not fully inherit, was Lord Salisbury's persistent resistance to Emperor William's efforts to entangle Great Britain in an alliance with Germany. These efforts have been made at intervals since 1895, and are likely to be renewed now that Lord Salisbury has retired.

The chief immediate cause of apprehension, however, is that Mr. Balfour will be unwilling to either radically reduce the size of the unwieldy cabinet, now numbering 19, or make sweeping changes in it. Nowhere is its complete reconstruction more earnestly urged than among the Conservatives themselves, some of whom profess to fear that unless the ministry is strengthened its support in the House of Commons will rapidly dwindle. The Conservatives are doubtful whether Mr. Balfour is sufficiently resolute to recreate the ministry against the wishes of most of his present official associates. The consensus of best informed conservative opinion points to a list of appointments something like the following as being the most likely:

Mr. Hanbury, the president of the Board of Agriculture, to succeed Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the chancellor of the exchequer, the announcement of whose resignation was not received with favor by the Conservatives, with the exception of those who desire to see the post of the exchequer filled by a man committed to the principle of preferential trade with the colonies.

Other candidates mentioned for the exchequer are the Rt. Hon. James W. Lowther, former parliamentary secretary for foreign affairs; Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, who is not considered to be a financier; and Edgar Vincent, former financial adviser to the Egyptian government and ex-governor of the Imperial Ottoman Bank at Constantinople.

It is now considered probable that Earl Halsbury will be succeeded as Lord Chancellor by Sir R. B. Finlay, at present attorney general. The manner in which Lord Halsbury exercised his prerogative in the appointments of judges has caused considerable dissatisfaction. It is asserted that many of the appointees do not reach the high standard previously maintained in the English courts.

Earl Cadogan, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, will probably be succeeded by the Duke of Marlborough, the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, or the Earl of Dudley. If the Duke of Marlborough is appointed it will be due to his wife's popularity as much as to the duke's merits. The duke's name is also mentioned as the possible successor of the Earl of Hopetoun as governor-general of Australia.

Should Mr. Ritchie resign the home secretaryship, George Wyndham, now chief secretary for Ireland, is considered a promising candidate.

Lord Ashbourne's position as lord chancellor of Ireland is acceptably filled.

The Rt. Hon. Sir Edward Carson, the solicitor general, and the Duke of Bedford are strongly urged to succeed Lord James of Hereford in the anomalous cabinet position of chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster. Lord Hopetoun is a secondary possibility.

The resignation of Lord George Hamilton as secretary of state for India is considered probable.

J. Austen Chamberlain, eldest son of Joseph Chamberlain, may have a place in the cabinet.

Prof. F. Mann Richardson of Stanford is dying in Baltimore of blood-poisoning.

The Geisha Waist Remains Queen of Shirt Waists

Honolulu ladies who live in perpetual Summer, find the White Shirt Waist an important part of the wardrobe every day in the year. For this climate the Waist should be in point of workmanship a superior garment.

Manufacturers of GEISHA have thoroughly studied the situation and are able to make up sheer materials in a manner which combines beauty, durability and comfort to a remarkable degree.

They sent us a large shipment which arrived by the Alameda and includes some very beautiful and swell styles, made with elbow sleeves, especially suitable for Mid-Summer wear.

All factories commence at this season to work on Woolen Garments for Winter. We therefore advise that you supply your requirements for several months, by selecting new, while assortments and sizes are complete.

CABLE COMPANY MAY LAY CONDUIT

Executive Council Grants Use of Streets From Waikiki to Young Building.

At yesterday's meeting of the Executive Council the Commercial Cable Co. was granted permission to lay a conduit for its cable along the public highways from Waikiki to the Young building, where the offices are to be located.

Starting at Sans Souci, the landing place for the cable line, the conduit will be laid along Kaplanui Park, down to Brown street, to Lewis street, along McCandless street, along the Kalia road and Beach road, then up Queen to Alakea, along that street to King and thence to the Young building.

Certain conditions are to be complied with and the work will be done under the supervision of Superintendent Boyd.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

The world is full of disease and pain. Whose fault is it? Everybody's; therefore often the fault of the sufferers themselves. But the pressing question is,—what to do, how to relieve, how to cure. What would become of us if means were not found to destroy disease? Why, then, of course, disease would destroy us and the world would be depopulated. Until we learn how to prevent disease, we must be thankful for the means of abating and curing it after it has seized upon us, and stands, like a savage with uplifted axe, ready to take our lives. Especially do we need some sure and speedy form of treatment for those complaints which are universal,—which arise in every country and climate. We allude to such ailments as Nervous and General Debility, Hysteria, Scrofula, Chronic Diarrhea, Asthma, Throat and Lung Complaints, Blood Impurities, and the ills of women and children. For these WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION comes as near to being an actual specific as any medicine yet discovered. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. You may almost say that it is life itself embodied in a single article made by human hands. Dr. J. L. Carrick says: "I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrofulous Affections. It is of special value in nervous prostration and depraved nutrition. It stimulates the appetite and the digestion, promotes assimilation, and enters directly into the circulation with the food. I consider it a marvelous success in medicine." Every dose effective. "It cannot disappoint." Sold by all chemists.

A Roll-Rim Bath Tub

makes a fine appearance in such a room, as well as the other sanitary appliances requisite, if they are up-to-date goods, like those shown in the above store.

We wish to call special attention to the World Famed Douglas Closets. They are provided with either high or low tanks as seen in the cut, and are as near noiseless in their operation as closets can be made. They are constructed on the syphon principle, which makes a strong suction that thoroughly washes the bowl. These closets are sold under a written guarantee, and are also guaranteed against leakage, no charge being made for repairs.

These goods are not too expensive for the moderate priced house, and should be inspected by all.

Mr. Bath will call and give figures on work at any time. He also gives all work intrusted to him his personal supervision.
